Ireland is a beautiful, safe and welcoming country and the Irish people are famous for their warmth and hospitality.

Ireland has a rich history of learning and literature which makes it the ideal option for any student contemplating an English language programme. W.B. Yeats and James Joyce are world famous writers from Ireland.

Ireland has also produced some of the most famous musical artists in the world such as U2, Westlife, Chris De Burgh, Van Morrison, The Frames & The Script. Probably the most famous of all is the international Irish dancing

Irish Proverb:

The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) is an international standard for describing language ability. It describes language ability on a six-point scale, from A1 for beginners, up to C2 for those who have mastered a language. This makes it easy for anyone involved in language teaching and testing, such as teachers or learners, to see the level of different qualifications. It also means that employers and educational institutions can easily compare our qualifications to other exams in their country.
